The American Library in Paris

INSTITUTIONAL AND PERIODICAL ARCHIVE: TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE

The Library's archives are unique and irreplaceable. These Terms and Conditions of Use will allow us to preserve them for future generations of researchers while providing a positive working environment for all patrons.

Reservations and Fee structure: Requests for an appointment in our archives must be made in advance to allow us time to page the materials and reserve a room. If no staff member is available on the requested time slot, an alternate appointment will be proposed. Library members may access our periodical archives free of charge. Non-members must purchase an Archive Day Pass or Week Pass for staff assistance, access to the materials, and the use of the Conference Room, Archives Office or a Study Room for consultation. Please inform the Library staff if you leave the building, temporarily or for the remainder of the day.

Handling and Care: Please handle our fragile archival materials with care and treat our facility with respect. The archives must be consulted with clean hands in one of our designated rooms (listed above). Please do not rearrange documents or photographs in the Institutional Archive files, and report any missing, misplaced, or damaged items to Library staff. Please open only one file or box at a time to avoid excessive exposure to light and minimize the risk of items getting misplaced or damaged. The person responsible for damage incurred will be held liable for any repair or replacement fees. Users must not attempt to repair materials themselves. We cannot accept replacement material.

Photographs, scans, and copies: Only non-flash photography is permitted. Only photographs for personal use are allowed. Scans or photocopies (for personal use) will be authorized and made by a Library staff member on a case-by-case basis. Please ask for our current photocopy and scanning rates (color or black & white, size A4 or A3).

Citation, copyright and reproductions: Correct attribution must be given when referencing text, images, or other archival content. To cite information from the Library's institutional archives, please use our full name: The American Library in Paris. Correct attribution must be given to the photographer for any images in our photographic archive. Permission must be obtained in advance from the American Library before reproducing any material from our institutional or photographic archive. Fees may be incurred depending on the nature and intent of the reproductions. As copyright is held by the individual publisher of each title in our periodical archive, permission for reproductions must be obtained directly from the appropriate entity.

Other: The Library does not accept responsibility for the loss of, or damage to, personal property or equipment, however caused.
All users are expected to use the Library's internet access in a legal and responsible manner consistent with the educational and informational purposes for which it is provided.
